

To apply for an Australian passport, you must bring the following original documents to your appointment:

- Completed Overseas Passport Application form
 - It can be completed on the passports website and printed out. Alternatively, blank forms are available at the Embassy.
- Australian citizenship certificate (if applicable)
- Full birth certificate
 - If the certificate was not issued in English, an English translation must also be provided. The translation must be done by the issuing authority, one of the Embassy's accredited translation offices or a NAATI accredited translator.
- If you were born in Australia on/after 20/08/1986 and were not issued with an Australian citizenship certificate, you need to provide one of the following documents as proof of citizenship:
 - Your Australian passport issued on/after 01/01/2000 with at least 2 years validity
 - One parent's full Australian birth certificate (parent born prior to 20/08/1986)
 - One parent's Australian passport (issued on/after 20/08/1986, with a minimum of 2 years validity and valid at the time of your birth)
 - One parent's Australian citizenship certificate (issued prior to your birth)
- Current IDs that include your photo and current residential address. The IDs presented should match one of the combinations set out on the application form/website.
- At least three recent photos that comply with the photograph requirements
 - Your guarantor must sign the back of one of your photos after writing "This is a true photo of 'applicant's full name'"
- Previous passport (if applicable)
- Evidence of change of name (if applicable)
- The passport application fee and overseas surcharge – total fee of AUD387
 - The current fee for an adult passport is AUD282
 - The current overseas surcharge is AUD105
 - Fees are only collected in Egyptian Pounds (cash or credit/debit card) according to the exchange rate at the time of lodging the application.

Allow up to 3 weeks to receive your new passport following receipt of all necessary documents, information and fees.

Should you have any further enquiries, please do not hesitate to contact us.